

PROTECTIONS AGAINST TRAFFICKING IN PERSONS

Sample Social Responsibility Agreement for Food and Beverage Supply Chains

The purpose of a “Social Responsibility Agreement” is to formally record the commitment of a subcontractor, supplier, or agent to conform to a customer’s code of conduct and applicable legal requirements. It can be a standalone document or included as an appendix to a contract.

Contract terms and conditions covering the obligations of both the buyer and supplier are the legally enforceable requirements for suppliers to prevent human trafficking, including forced labor.¹ Included in all contracts and purchase agreements with subcontractors, suppliers and agents should be both the buyer’s specific performance standards (Schedule P), and the due diligence processes suppliers are expected to implement. The American Bar Association has published a set of model contract clauses to protect worker in the supply chain that align with both the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and the 2018 OECD Due Diligence Guidance for Responsible Business Conduct.² The clauses are designed to be used by buyers located in the United States but can be adapted for use by companies in other countries.

The following sample Social Responsibility Agreement is not designed to ensure compliance with specific legal requirements, such as the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR): Combating Trafficking in Persons. Specific compliance requirements should be detailed in the terms and conditions of contracts with subcontractors, suppliers, and agents.

¹ READERS NOTE: Strictly for the purposes of these tools, as well as other documents on the RST site, we are using the terms “trafficking,” “trafficking in persons,” “human trafficking,” “human trafficking, including forced labor,” and “forced labor” interchangeably.
